Benjamin Moore announces support for community and heritage groups across Canada

(RED DEER, ALTA.) May 25, 2009 – Thirty-three community agencies across Canada are receiving grants and Benjamin Moore paint as part of the Benjamin Moore Community Restoration Program, a partnership between Benjamin Moore and Community Foundations of Canada. The renovation and heritage restoration projects, announced today, range from restoring a vaudeville theatre to refurbishing program space for an immigrant women’s organization.

This year, the program is awarding $75,000 in grants and more than $14,000 in paint to community groups in 20 communities across Canada, from Kelowna, BC to Sydney, NS.

“We’re proud to be part of The Benjamin Moore Community Restoration Program, which gives charities the materials and expertise they need to refurbish buildings of historical interest or social importance to their community,” says Monica Patten, CEO of Community Foundations of Canada.

“The restoration program is a great way to make a positive difference in our community, by sharing something that we are passionate about – our expertise and our products – with people who are equally committed to the community and its heritage and vitality,” says Mark Hodge, General Manager of Benjamin Moore’s Western Region, where today’s announcement was held. Hodge made the announcement on behalf of Benjamin Moore Canada’s three General Managers.

Grants in All Three Benjamin Moore Regions

In Western Region, Benjamin Moore is providing $25,000 in financial support and $4,800 in paint to 12 community groups in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Central Region General Manager, Mike Kolind, is announcing $25,000 in grants and $4,500 in paint to nine charitable organizations in Ontario.

In Eastern Region, General Manager Richard Tremblay is announcing grants to 12 organizations in the National Capital Region, Quebec and Nova Scotia totaling $25,000 and $4,900 in paint donations. Since 1998 the Benjamin Moore Community Restoration Program has supported more than 150 community groups with grants totaling $530,000 and $116,000 in donated paint. Community foundations across the country assist the program by using their local networks and community knowledge to identify applicants that meet the program's criteria.
